Condition on Gridiron

There is no kind of sport that we all enjoy so much as Football. We all look forward to the beginning of the school year when the talk of the student body is "Football."

It is just a little early at this time to say whether we shall have a strong team or not, but so far we have a very promising outlook. Yet, sufficient opportunity to have the material show up has not yet been given. About thirty men were given suits Monday afternoon and spent a couple of hours passing, kicking, and galloping about the field. The same for Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons.

Letter men from last year who are back, include: Capt. Marvin Hamilton, Hendy, Willoughby, Goforth, Fishel, and McIlrath. Capt. Hamilton and Goforth are backfield men. Hendy and Willoughby, guards; McIlrath, end, and Cox and Fishel tacklers.

Promising new men are Hunter, who played half and quarter for Rock Island High last year; Bixenstine, half back, from Carmi; Henson, end, from Fairfield; Dunn, center, from Murphysboro, who last year was a close runner up for all star Southern Illinois center; P. Folliswell, who played full for the Maroon and White in 1916, is out, although not so "peppery" as he used to be when "young." But "Ham" thinks maybe he can get the kinks out.

Also Elbert Etherton, a letter man, half back from 1918 and 1914, is bobbing about.

A number of new men who have played before have come out and a number will no doubt make good "timber."

Now with such a good prospect for the football season, let us, as a student body, get together and be boosters and not knockers. It depends on US whether we make it a go and if the boys know we are backing them up, they will be winners instead of losers.

We realize that Capt. McAndrew is always into the game with all his soul and body and with "Ham" for Captain we know we are bound to have some wonderful games. So let's do our bit by backing the boys.

BOCRATIC SOCIETY WELCOMES YOU

MARVIN HAMILTON, GRID CAPTAIN, 1922

At the close of the football season last year Marvin Hamilton was elected as Football Captain for this year. "Ham," with his 170 pounds of brawn, is a suitable leader for the pig-skinners. He played steadily all last season, contributing much to the Normal's Stonewall Defense, besides being very aggressive on the offense.

could be a public speaker of power, fluency, and eloquence. It must indeed be a great feeling to be a speaker that can sway an audience and lead their emotions into any channel you wish. Our two Literary Societies here were organized to give practical experience in just that line. Bocratic Society has for its ultimate purpose "to seek intellectual and moral advancement." Here we seek to reach that aim through literary and musical programs of the finest kind. This Society is one of the conservative institutions of this school. We do not only seek to entertain ourselves and our visitors, but we seek for the greater and more permanent values.

Bocratic Society maintains an orchestra of specialists who contribute to our programs both classical and modern music. You never go wrong when you go to hear the Bocratic orchestra.

To all new students and also our Bocratic Society extends a hearty welcome. You will always find a good program and a jolly bunch of welcome you. Come and make our hall your home.

WHY EVERYBODY SHOULD BE A SUBSCRIBER

Have you ever stopped to think how much pep and vigor and enthusiasm and school spirit every issue of the Egyptian puts into you? Here's an example. You drag home, tired from school, everything went wrong that day. It's Tuesday evening, you're all in. Oh, you know how it is. No sleep in the box, you slam your books down and by George! there's the Egyptian folded up with your note book and you haven't had time to read it. Oh Boy! A nice thirty minutes of real joy before supper. And help my time! If there isn't the article you wanted. They really accepted it and there's your name in everything! Mother always thought you'd be a writer and Oh Boy! sure enough there's a whole column!

Subscribe now! The Egyptian breaks the gloom of hard knocks, flunks, blue Mondays, makes the day after the night before look bright and cheery (some paper, fellows!), and warms your heart in the face of a cold winter. Get the habit! Subscribe and do it now!

Stag Social

Meeting Held by the "Y" Men Well Attended.

On last Tuesday evening about one hundred boys gathered in the Normal gym to attend a Stag Social which was given by the Y. M. C. A. The purpose of the evening was that the new students might get acquainted.

The boys were divided into two groups, which contested for the prize of the evening. Willard Campbell and Ray Hamilton were the Captains for the two sides. Many contests were held which were exciting and new.

If you knew the personnel of the East group it would be needless to say that they were victors of the evening by a score of 250 to 150.

After the score was announced the two captains were called out and the prizes were given which were appropriate in character as Campbell's went down and Hamilton's up.

After the social a "quiet hour" was held. During this time a talk to the school was given by Mr. Miles of the Commercial Department, and Mr. Hall, vice president of the Y. M. C. A., spoke for the Association.

Y. W. C. A. SOCIAL

Wednesday evening the cabinet and members of the Young Women's Christian Association were hostesses to the new girls of the S. I. N. U.

The fun began with a half-hour's singing by the group when some of the songs learned by our delegates at Geneva were passed on to the entire group. Fifteen minutes lively scrambling to learn our neighbor's name followed during which time everyone met everyone else. Puzzling words came next, proving puzzles indeed, but when worked out and dramatized furnished fun for all. Miss Rup, Grace Frederiek, Bertha Clark and Myrtle Hallberg showed marked ability in recalling names and faces while the "Puncture" group walked away with the prize in the word puzzles.

After refreshing ourselves at the punch bowl, presided over by Miss Grace Haglason and her able assistant, we listened to a short talk by our president, Miss Boss McGuire, on the nature and purpose of the Y. W. C. A. When an invitation to join us in our work and play together was extended, thirty-six girls responded. We are very glad to welcome these new members and will be just as glad to see many more come into our Association.

THE EGYPTIAN

Many of you are reading "The Egyptian" for the first time today. We hope you will become not only a subscriber but also a booster and contributor for it.

On the publishing of any school paper the work of compilation always falls, almost exclusively, upon the staff. Of course, the ideal situation would be a paper to which every member of the student body felt at perfect liberty in contributing, in which the sole duty of the staff would be in assembling this material.

Can we not have this more so this year than ever before? As you will note, only a small part of the staff has been chosen. The Board hopes to have the staff complete within the next few weeks so that we may insure you a better paper. Will you not try your hand at writing news, editorials, stories, jokes, and feature articles?

THE ORCHESTRA PREPARES FOR BIG YEAR

Harold K. Pritchard Will Be the Leader.

Our Orchestra which for the last nine years has been hailed as the best school orchestra in Mississippi Valley has started this year with all prospects of retaining the title. Most of last year's musicians are back. They will form a nucleus for the new orchestra. Many new students will be added to its personnel.

The student body are giving their support to the orchestra and want the leader, Mr. Pritchard, to know that they are behind him in his work already to boost, contribute, or do anything in their power to help out.

Mr. Pritchard has been affiliated with the Department of Music here for the last year and demonstrated his ability to the entire satisfaction of faculty and students. He is well liked by every one, efficient, attractive, and having the gift of an exceptional personality.

THE FORUM

One of the problems that arises for new students especially and to some extent for all is that of organizations. What organization shall we join in order to get the most out of school life? The organizations have a definite and important place in one's school career. Therefore the question arises as to which organizations to join. In this issue of the Egyptian a number of these organizations have write-ups explaining in a general way their nature and purposes. The object is to acquaint those students not already familiar with these important facts. This sketch concerns itself with the Forum as one of the organizations.

The Forum is the oldest one of the three organizations, which concerns itself with debating and parliamentary law. It is, in short, a debating club limited to twenty-five members. The object of the Forum is to afford the members practical training in public speaking and debate. We are very certain that it does furnish this training. The graduates of the Forum have shown and do show that they have learned to stand squarely upon both feet and give voice to their opinions in no uncertain terms. It is unnecessary to go into details as to the value of this sort of training; that is obvious.

The Forum requires that prospective candidates for membership have at least junior standing in this school. This organization issues a special invitation to students of ability, students who will help to boost the organizations, students who are a source of strength rather than weakness and students who are able to bear the brunt of the fight that is coming, the Tri-Club Debates.

The Forum meets every Monday night at which time a spirited program is rendered. Watch for posters which give more specific information as to time and place.

EDITORIAL

We firmly and solemnly believe that politeness is one of the greatest virtues, but even politeness can be over done. It was the other day on the golf course, Two golfers sliced their drives right straight over into the rough and both went in search of their balls. They searched and researched till the air was blue and their tongues were hot. They had exhausted all their golf vocabulary and were starting all over again when a dear lady, who had been watching with sympathetic eyes, stepped up and said sweetly:

"I hope I'm not interrupting, dear, but would it be cheating if I told you where the balls are?" ! ! ! ? ? ! !

A school enterprise may succeed or fail. Any enterprise may fail if it is not patronized. Success depends upon you. There are several reasons why you should take the school paper, therefore insuring its success. Here are a few reasons, but not all of them: This is your paper, it is run by students. Of course, you may not take part in seeing that it is edited, but those who edit it are students. They depend upon you for articles and contributions. You may not take part in making the laws of this state but nevertheless this government is yours. The laws are made by people who represent you.

Since this school enterprise is yours, does it not deserve your support? Then, you like to know what is happening in this school and among the students. You can not attend all the various organizations and clubs, yet you enjoy to know, occasionally, what each is doing and accomplishing. You like to know what progress the school is making. You enjoy jokes about your friends. Several of these humorous things happen while you are in the class room, and you can't hear them then, but you can enjoy them later from the paper. Then, it is a means of advertisement for the school. It is just natural for anyone to want other people to know what he, himself, is doing. You like for other people to know what kind of school this is. This school deserves publicity, therefore the paper is sent to the county and city superintendents in the southern part of the state.

Since this is a good way to advertise our school, let us keep it up. No one would like to attend a school that is unknown to the public. What and where is Pribiloff? If you don't know, it's because you haven't read of them, for they are important islands. Then, loyalty to the school, would furnish enough argument for your support.

Come on, let's go!

In a railway station during vacation a travelling salesman was heard to say: "We may expect the church to rise up against the theory of evolution. The church has always stood ready to oppose science or in fact any form of progress along educational lines."

The absurd thing about it was that a few young men (college men) agreed to what he said. If these newly arrived or would-be scientists could have only remembered some of their history they would have known that the church has fostered education in practically all ages. During ancient times education was almost entirely limited to the priesthood.

Even in Egypt, Babylon, and India, so-called pagan countries, also among the Jews, the priests were the teachers of the youth.

Through the Dark Ages, the monasteries and churches preserved the ancient writings, and thereby saved the spark of education and enlightenment from being extinguished. It was by students in these churches that the philosophy of Plato and Aristotle was studied, and it was from these churches or monasteries that the first great students of science came.

The same is true of America: Harvard, William and Mary's College, Yale, Princeton, Brown, Columbia, and many others were founded by the churches of the day.

As we look back over the pages of history we see little need for apology on the part of the church. Instead we find much to commend.

LOVING CUPS ARE GIVEN

Last year the Zetetic Society started a custom which is followed in many other schools—that of giving prizes at the end of the year. The Zetetics chose as their special field School Spizzeringium.

Accordingly two beautiful loving cups were given away, one to the member of the faculty and one to a student, who the members of the society think have been foremost in arousing school interest. Last year they were awarded to Glen C. Bainum and Wilbur Valentine. No one can dispute the value of Bainum and his

"WHERE'S THE NORMAL AT?"

"Them Days is Gone Forever"

We all remember 'way back when the tall, gaiky, raw-boned freshman came to register at S. I. N. U. With bag and baggage (which was a huge black valise or a telescope with tan straps) he alighted from the I. C. and forthwith inquired "Where's the Normal at?"

"But Them Days is Gone Forever." Now he arrives along with nine hundred strong hands his leather handbag to an obliging taxi driver. Steps into the car with never a "Where's the Normal at?" but with an opulent air he nods to the chauffeur. "The Normal, please, James," and with a grand and mighty flourish he is swept up to the door of the auditorium and becomes a student of S. I. N. U.

NO THRILLS AT ANTHONY HALL

Miss Rue Is Interviewed

The interviewer was admitted to Anthony Hall and as it was during vacation the matron seemed glad that he called. After a few remarks the interview started.

Interviewer:—"Name?"

Miss Rue—"Julia Bertine Rue." (Miss Rue hesitated about giving her middle name.)

Interviewer:—"Your Alma Mater?"

Miss Rue—"University of North Dakota." Delta Zeta, Phi Beta Kappa.

Interviewer:—"As a child what was your chief ambition?"

Miss Rue:—"Even as a small child my desire was to be a teacher."

Interviewer:—"What is your chief ambition now?"

Miss Rue:—"Getting ready for my trip to Europe next year."

Interviewer:—"As a student what was your choice subject?"

Miss Rue:—"When I left high school I despised geography, but later it became my favorite."

Interviewer:—"If you had had your choice would you have been large or small in stature?"

Miss Rue:—"I would have been about three feet shorter. Maybe you had better make it two feet shorter. I would have liked that fine only on special occasions."

Interviewer:—"Which are ---?"

Miss Rue:—"I'm not saying."

Interviewer:—"What is the most thrilling thing that has occurred at the Hall since you have been matron?"

Miss Rue:—"Well really, there have been no thrills."

Interviewer:—"Are you not really amused sometimes when you have to appear otherwise?"

Miss Rue:—"Absolutely, they ought to know that. I just wish they would do the same things we did when I lived in a dormitory."

Interviewer:—"Do you really enjoy closing the hall down?"

Miss Rue:—"Sometimes—no details."

Interviewer:—"What is the most daring thing you ever did?"

Miss Rue:—"Not wise—wise, to tell at this date."

Interviewer:—"Whom do you consider the greatest woman in America today?"

Miss Rue:—"Jac Addams I suppose you know really I haven't been thinking about such deep things since school was out."

Interviewer:—"What do you think of the boys who come to Anthony Hall?"

Miss Rue:—"I don't believe they could be any better. Of course they could make some thrills for us if they would."

NORMAL SCHOOL NEWSPAPER TO BE PRINTED HERE

Taken from The Free Press

The first issue of the Egyptian, the student body publication at the Normal for the new school year will appear Tuesday, October 4th. It was announced yesterday by its business manager, August Meyer, and editor Ransom Sherretz.

The contract for printing the school paper has this year been awarded in Carbondale. The Free Press will print the paper this year. Both of the two previous years of its existence the publication has been printed out of town, but here this year its staff hopes for renewed favor among advertisers and merchants, in addition to the convenience afforded in being printed here.

The Egyptian enjoys a wide circulation among students, faculty members and friends of the school in the city and Southern Illinois. Nearly 1,000, its manager says. It carries news of the school activities from the view point of the student yet reflecting the general policy of the management of the school in all matters of larger concern connected with the institution. The news of the school's doings and the freshness with which they are chronicled is its success together with sound editorial standards as related to institutions.

ZETETIC SOCIETY HAS OPENING MEETING

Last Friday night the Zetetic Society had the first meeting of the forty ninth year of its service on the campus. Many of the old members were back to help things get started. The names of several were proposed for membership. The society wants all the students to know that they are not only invited to the meetings but are urged to unite in membership. The purpose of this article is not to tell the advantages of belonging to such an organization. We take it that you are well acquainted with those facts. If, however, will you not become a member?

As it was the first program of the year it was rather short but was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Ransom Sherretz, '23 was duly installed as president of the society.

The Junior High School started off last week with a nice enrollment and list of rep. Mr. Cisne and Miss Mitchell are back. Mrs. Deirmount has taken the place of Miss Sheridan, who is teaching in a Normal School in Wisconsin.

The pupils were all quite eager to see who their new practice teachers would be.

The boys are already looking forward to the basket ball season. They hope to turn out a championship this year.

GOOD FOOTBALL TEAM

"Ted" Carson, captain of last year's "Maroons," has developed a good football team at Vienna where he is coach and mathematics teachers this year. Vienna played the Community High here September 23, winning by a match. Vienna gained the touch-down a score of 6-0. Both teams were well down by forward passes while C. C. H. S. lost much by fumbling.

Coach Carson is to be congratulated on his first team.

ANTHONY HALL

If you were a visitor at Anthony Hall this past week, you would have noted many new faces. Perhaps if you had wandered up one of the corridors you would have heard lots of "Ohs" and "Ahs" over new dresses, hats, etc., being brought forth from one of those many trunks that are now boosted up into the attic. A glance into one of the rooms would have shown you that the Hall is boasting very pretty newly tinted walls and absolutely the "shiningest" new wood work. Yes,—Anthony Hall with its matron, Miss Rue, and her seventy-six very much alive girls are already getting regulated to "Dips," study hours, and the good times they always have.

BAINUM

C. C. H. S. 722 WELL

REPRESENTED AT S. I. N. U.

Over half of last spring's graduating class from Carbondale's Community High School took advantage of the opportunity to continue their education at S. I. N. U. this fall. Out of the fifteen receiving their diplomas from C. C. H. S., nine have enrolled here as first year college students.

The Community High extends an invitation to our students to attend their football games this fall. They will meet some of the strongest teams in Southern Illinois and as they have no weak team, good games are insured.

You wouldn't wash your clothes in DIRTY WATER—nor could you clean them in

Dirty Gasoline

The "PRINCE WAY" cleans Clothes by "The Running Stream System" in clean, fresh, high-test chemicals.

There isn't any question but that some day you will call the PRINCE WAY to have your clothes cleaned; then you'll wonder why you haven't done it sooner. You'll marvel at the better grade of workmanship; the quicker, more dependable and more careful service. PRINCE DRY CLEANING is a remarkable achievement, and will add much to your enjoyment of wearing well-kept clothes.

The old system of churning clothes for thirty minutes in the same old gasoline—gasoline that keeps getting dirtier and dirtier with each turn of the tub—can't clean clothes thoroughly, even if you should rinse them. PRINCE-WAY Cleaning provides for clean, fresh, high-test chemicals flowing through the clothes and flowing out of the machine at the bottom.

You can't imagine what a difference the PRINCE WAY will make in your clothes. Send in a trial garment—see how wonderful it will look—note how sweet and clean it smells. And remember, there isn't a penny's difference in our prices and of those who try to clean in dirty gasoline.

Other "Prince Way" Advantages That You'll Enjoy

Behind the PRINCE-WAY system of Dry Cleaning there is that honor of true craftsmanship that make for the ideal in achievement and assures better standards.

If you are invited out at "the last minute," call us by phone, tell us of your need for haste, and we will have your dress or suit back to you at the given hour.

You can call the PRINCE-WAY from any part of Carbondale and receive the same prompt service as though you came to our place.

We guarantee every piece of work we do. If we can't do it right we won't take the job.

Give us a "ring" today—get out your old clothes—or if you are thinking of house-cleaning time, remember, we are prepared and equipped to handle your curtains, draperies, rugs and heavy bedding in a true PRINCE-WAY manner.
